

Occupational Health and Safety Policy

The company is as concerned with occupational health & safety as it is with production and its quality, since they are main elements in the company's goals. It is important that all employees are involved in incidence-and-injury prevention, as well as protection of the surrounding community from any hazards that may occur due to the industrial nature of the company's activity. Thus we perform our social duty as an industrial firm. To realize this, all those concerned with OH&S as well as all other employees are committed to performing their jobs in compliance with the following policy:

Safety

The company does its best to ensure employees' OH&S and to secure the working environment through all the stages starting from the preliminary studies and design, to the construction, the primary run to the final run to ensure easy and safe working conditions for the employees.

No incidences, no injuries safe working

Every employee does his best to achieve our "no incidences, no injuries" goal through preserving the safe and hazard-free working conditions and working environment, and limiting the conditions that may lead to incidences.

Commitment to legal and other requirements

The company is committed to do its best to prevent accidents, injuries and occupational illness.

The company is committed to complying with OH&S rules and obligations that are related to its activities.

Employees training

The company provides the necessary OH&S training for all employees in order to raise their awareness.

Continuous improvement

The company was established in compliance with the rules and regulations that ensure OH&S during production processes. Today the company regularly develops and improves this system in all its departments. The company also ensures that all employees receive clear instructions to abide by its OH&S policy.
